Consider participation for yourselves and setting up a "Come to Vote and Meet your Neighbors" party in your area. This could also be a team effort with a neighboring association. This is a great opportunity to take part in the future of Tulsa and to include your neighbors in a community building experience.

Doors open at 5:30

Cain's Ballroom, 423 N. Main

Public input from thousands of Tulsans has been gathered, processed, digitized, synthesized, and mapped. In other words, Tulsa spoke and we listened!

Using your ideas, the PLANiTULSA team has developed four different scenarios of how future growth in Tulsa would look. We used data gathered at public workshops, and through surveys and interviews conducted throughout the city. The resulting scenarios are visual representations of your input, including maps, photos, and sample building types. We as a community have a decision to make - which of these scenarios makes the most sense for our city?

We're going to answer that question the best way we know how - by asking you to help decide! Beginning on May 12, you will have an opportunity to review the scenarios and then share your opinions and insights by completing a ballot, either paper or on-line. Rate different aspects of each scenario and offer suggestions. The results will form the foundation of Tulsa's updated Comprehensive Plan.

How to get started? Join Mayor Taylor for the PLANiTULSA Balloting Blitz! Part pep rally, part social event, this is the kick-off of the month-long public balloting process. There will be local food from Eloté Café and Catering and local music by Little Chairs at the historic Cain's Ballroom. Get a first-hand look at the four scenarios. Ask questions. Visit with friends. And hopefully you'll be motivated to spread the word throughout Tulsa! The goal is for 15,000 Tulsans to submit a ballot. Help make that happen and help shape Tulsa's future!

Balloting begins May 12

The results of workshops, surveys, and interviews are now being synthesized into four distinct scenarios for future development. On May 12, Tulsans will once again have an opportunity to weigh in on Tulsa's future growth. Polling will occur online, by mail, and fax. If you would like to help distribute and/or collect paper ballots to an organization or group, please contact us at planning@cityoftulsa.org or call 576-5684. Thank you.
